Profile

Prerna Bodalia, PT, DPT, has been practicing since graduating from Midwestern University in 2013 with her Doctorate in Physical Therapy. Her focus has been primarily in the pediatric population, but now is transitioning over to orthopedics across all age groups. Her interest in physical therapy first sparked in high school where she volunteered at a local pediatric facility rehabilitating children with a variety of diagnoses. Prerna was born and raised in the northern suburbs of Chicago and works at the Palatine Illinois Bone and Joint Institute clinic.

Prerna is excited to be a part of the collaborative care environment with IBJI to provide patients with excellent care. She is dedicated to using the most effective and appropriate treatments to facilitate a full recovery. She believes strongly in educating patients and providing them with the tools needed to take an active role in their recovery.

In her free time, Prerna enjoys bike riding and running, spending time with her family and friends, baking, and doing various Pinterest projects.
