Profile

Julianne Dennis, PT, DPT recently began her practice in orthopedics after completing her Doctor of Physical Therapy degree at Rosalind Franklin University. She attended the University of Illinois for undergrad and still enjoys cheering on the Illini!

Julianne enjoys treating a vast variety of orthopedic diagnoses. She believes in incorporating evidence based practice with her patients to ensure they meet their maximum functional potential. Julianne plans to further her education in the areas of orthopedics and manual physical therapy in the near future.

Julianne is originally from Tinley Park, IL but is Lincoln Park's newest resident. She enjoys running on the lakefront and exploring all that the north side of Chicago has to offer. When she isn't out and about in the city, Julianne enjoys testing her cooking skills in the kitchen.
