

David Griffiths, PT

Physical Therapist

Profile

David Griffiths has been a physical therapist since 2003, spending his entire career in outpatient orthopedics. He has a manual therapy certification through the Association of Clinical Excellence and utilizes a combination of exercise and manual treatments to help his patients. David has extensive experience with both non-operative and post-operative cases working with all age groups. He finds particular interest in working with athletes and worker's compensation cases. Outside of the clinic, David enjoys spending time with his family, staying active, and cheering on his favorite teams.
