Profile

Lillie Dickman, PT, DPT has been a practicing physical therapist since her graduation from Washington University in St Louis in 2022. She is excited to be able to deliver care to those in the Chicagoland area.

Lillie enjoys treating a wide variety of both orthopedic and neuromuscular conditions. She takes a holistic approach to returning patients to their own normalcy, focusing on each patient's unique goals and tailoring a treatment program around that. Lillie values the interprofessional collaboration that occurs throughout a patient's plan of care, and enjoys this aspect of being part of the IBJI team.

When not working, Lillie enjoys running, hiking, and exploring new places. Originally from Louisville, KY, Lillie loves the festivities surrounding the Kentucky Derby and tries to make it to Churchill Downs for the first Saturday in May.
