Profile

Angela Meaney has worked as a Physical Therapist since graduating from Bradley University in 1997. Angela has spent most of her life in Kankakee County where she has primarily focused her career on outpatient orthopedics for the last 15 years. Angela enjoys treating a variety of patients from pediatrics to geriatrics in the outpatient setting. Angela prides herself on her exemplary soft tissue and joint mobilization skills in conjunction with her strain counterstrain techniques. Angela is an expert at identifying and correcting postural faults that can be causing a multitude of alignments and potential future injuries. In her downtime Angela loves to spend time with her loving husband and three daughters, as well as her extended family. Angela loves to get lost in a good book, antiquing and working on her beautiful home as well.
