Profile

Amy brings more than 25 years experience providing patient focused physical therapy that delivers results. Amy was born and raised in the Chicago area before departing for Texas where she earned her degrees, started a career and her family. Amy returned to her home town in 2003 and continues her passion for providing rehabilitative care for a variety of patients. Her experience as a Physical Therapist and Director for both inpatient and outpatient clinics afforded her the opportunity to lead numerous teams in providing compassionate care.

When not in clinic, Amy enjoys live music, traveling and spending time outdoors with her family preferably near a body of water.

Amy lives in the western suburbs with her husband, her two sons and their rescued Jack Russell Terrier “Jack”.
